Not illustrated. 1858 Excerpt: .angel had told her so before he was born; but she was deeply interested in the shepherds story. The shepherds wondered that their Saviour, who was to be, as they thought, a great king and ruler, should be born in a stable, instead of a palace, and for his only cradle should have a manger. What is a manger? asked Mary. It is a place where hay is put for the horses and cattle to eat. This one was full of hay, and made a soft bed for the little babe. The reason why Mary and her husband were lodging in a stable at this time was, that they had come to Bethlehem a few days before, and had found the inn full. A great many strangers were in the town at the same time, and there was no room left for the new-comers to sleep except in the stable; but as they were obliged to remain in Bethlehem for a while, they had made that stable their home until some of the visitors should leave the inn. After the shepherds had seen the child, and had related what had occurred, they departed; relating these wonderful things to every one they met. Georgie, do you remember the words the angels were singing? Yes, mother: Glory to God in the highest! peace on earth, good-will toward men. By these words they meant that men should praise God with their highest powers, for his mercy in sending a...
