A topic which has aroused much interest, and upon which special lectures have been given by Dr. Lily Owen Burbank, is Social Hygiene as a Public Health Problem. These lectures have been exceptionally well attended. The exhibit schedule planned for the fall of 1918 was postponed because of the influenza epidemic, and was not resumed until January, 1919. From January to June, a period of about five months, programs were carried out in Amesbury, Attleboro, Belchertown, Belmont, Canton, Deerfield, Easthampton, Franklin, Haverhill, Ipswich, North Attleborough, Southampton, South Deerfield and Taunton. The approximate attendance at the exhibits held during the past five months may be of interest: school children, from public and parochial schools, from the fifth grade up, about 10,000; adult audiences, about 11,000 persons. It is not possible to see the result of work covering such a wide field, but it must, without doubt, make itself felt in the improved health of the community generally. THE COMMONHEALTH.
