Communities of Sense: Rethinking Aesthetics and Politics

By Beth Hinderliter, William Kaizen, Vered Maimon

Duke University Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Communities of Sense: Rethinking Aesthetics and Politics, Beth Hinderliter, William Kaizen, Vered Maimon, "Communities of Sense" argues for a new understanding of the relations between politics and aesthetics in today's globalized and image-saturated world. Established and emerging scholars of art and culture draw on Jacques Ranciere's theorization of democratic politics to suggest that aesthetics, traditionally defined as the 'science of the sensible', is not a depoliticized discourse or theory of art, but instead part of a specific historical organization of social roles and communality. Rather than formulating aesthetics as the Other to politics, the contributors show that aesthetics and politics are mutually implicated in the construction of communities of visibility and sensation through which political orders emerge. The first of the collection's three sections explicitly examines the links between aesthetics and social and political experience. Here a new essay by Ranciere posits art as a key site where disagreement can be staged in order to produce new communities of sense. In the second section, contributors investigate how sense has been constructed in the historical European avant-garde and how it is mobilized in today's global visual and political culture. Exploring the viability...
