Excerpt: .thereof; and recommended that an action should be instituted, on behalf of the United States, to dispossess the occupant claiming under the grant to Madame Lecompte, of all the land outside of the grant to her when properly located; and to have the true construction, and proper extent and location of the grant to Madame Lecompte, settled by judicial decision. I have no cause to change that opinion, and repeat that ad vice as being the proper and best mode of settling the controversy. It is necessary and proper, because Mr. McMaster is in possession of lands which, in my opinion, properly belong to the United States, consisting of thousands of acres of land outside of the grant to Madame Lecompte, when properly located, but within the lines thereof as improperly extended. The occupant, Mr. McMaster, cannot institute suit against the United States, if he would,...
